

PUBLIC CONSULTATION REPORT - “WHAT WAS SAID”

As part of our commitment to listen, learn and to use what we learn to enhance our proposal, we have engaged with the community during the application process.

On November 25, 2019, we participated in three presentations and Q&A sessions at a Public Meeting at the John Mlacak Centre in Kanata.

During the engagement process, five key themes surfaced: planning, engineering, environment, transportation and potential damage.

Working with the City of Ottawa, we have compiled a report that captures what we heard throughout the consultation process.

The link below will take you to the “What Was Said” report with the questions that were asked - and answered in person at the public meeting. It also includes responses to questions that were submitted on comment cards throughout the public meeting, and addresses questions and comments that were received through our KanataPossibilities.ca website.

We hope that by sharing the responses, it will assist you in finding the information you are looking for.

Thank you for your participation.
